Plaintiff

v.

OHIO UNIVERSITY POLICE

Defendant

Case No. 2013-00001

Magistrate Holly True Shaver

ORDER OF THE MAGISTRATE

FILED
COURT OF CLAIMS
OF OHIO
2014 JAN 13 PM 1:52

On September 26, 2013, plaintiff filed a motion to compel discovery and for sanctions pursuant to Civ.R. 37. On October 17, 2013, defendant filed a response, wherein counsel for defendant stated that the discovery sought pursuant to the motion had been served.

On November 12, 2013, plaintiff filed a second motion to compel discovery and for sanctions. In the motion, plaintiff asserts that defendant's responses to her discovery requests have been inadequate and that counsel for defendant has engaged in unprofessional conduct. Plaintiff attached defendant's responses to discovery requests with her motion for the court to review. On November 27, 2013, defendant filed a response to the motion. On December 3, 2013, plaintiff filed a reply.

Upon review of the motions and the attachments included therein, the court finds that defendant has not failed to respond to requests for discovery, and that sanctions are not warranted pursuant to Civ.R. 37. Therefore, plaintiff's motions are DENIED. However, the court encourages the parties to work together to schedule the depositions of Officers Hoskinson and Baker if those depositions have not been scheduled. Therefore, the court's May 14, 2013 order is AMENDED to reflect that no discovery will be allowed after February 21, 2014, without leave of court.
